

HAPPY ENDINGS: JENNY'S STORY

Jenny will spend the holidays in a loving home of her own this year for the first time in a very long time. Loved by the Oasis staff but passed over by potential adoptive families time and time again, the sweet, shy senior spent far too many holidays as a shelter dog. But then something wonderful and life-changing mastering stair climbing, getting to know her new canine siblings, and responding to her new name, "Sadie." Mom reports that Sadie alertly guards the house and has become a huge treat monger.

Peggy's willingness to provide a forever home for Jenny and other senior dogs is inspirational.

The Oasis staff couldn't be happier for Sadie and Peggy and couldn't find a more joyful "happy endings" tale to share this holiday season.

Jenny enjoys some bonding time with Peggy.

This picture is truly worth a thousand words.

Jenny has adjusted to her new home beautifully. Within days of her adoption, she was enjoying nights in her new mom's room,

TWO GENTLE LADIES NEED HELP

It's a sad but familiar story. A terminal illness leaves devoted family pets homeless. Usually, a neighbor or family member makes room for the orphaned animals, thus enabling "mom" or "dad" to pass without worry.

Unfortunately, Nancy, a longtime friend of Oasis now under hospice care, has no family or neighbors to take either 7 year old Emma or 12 year old Susie. Both dogs are friendly and active (in a good way). If anyone can offer either or both of these gentle ladies a good home, please contact Oasis. The gals get along well, but function just fine independent of one another.

The staff's thoughts and prayers go out to Nancy during this difficult time. Good news about her girls' futures could boost her spirits.

At right, Emma stands near the shelter gate, waiting to go home.

Iggy was found wandering the streets, a terrifying situation for the little Basenji, who is blind and has a deformed leg. Iggy runs and enjoys walks like other dogs, but he really needs to be in a loving home rather than a shelter.

Baron, a big, strong, affectionate lab, loves to be with people. He responds well on walks, as if he's had some lead training.
